2. Design of the booth

Information about the designers (see General Instructions)

Exhibitors that have neighbors without construction have to build a nice separation to separate him from his neighbor. It is forbidden to leave the back and/or any other exposed part without a nice and standardize finishon. If the exhibitor has a neighbor with a constructed booth, a white separation will be installed by the organizers. Exhibitors without construction cannot use those separation panels except to attach his construction to the existing system.
